

General Sales Conditions

Rates and regulations:

All the programmed training courses are given in French (translator at your expense - we can give you some contacts, if possible, but the reservation and the financial agreement have to be arranged in between the translator and you). The prices are all included and free of tax for almost all countries. We accept payment by bank transfer or by cash or by credit card, on site. Your registration is considered upon the receipt of a deposit of € 200.00 per course and person, that will be deducted from training course's price. The consideration of the registration triggers the sending of a confirmation and of the training course's program. The balance is due two weeks before the start of chosen training course or eventually on site at the latest. The deposit can't be refund. Any person who does not update these regulations may not be allowed to attend the course.

Material:

Each student must bring their own work tools and is responsible for his equipment. The Alexandre de Paris' Academy accepts no liability for theft, loss or damage of any personal item belonging to the student.

Absence or Cancellation:

The academy reserves its right to postpone or cancel your registration if the training course has to be changed for reasons of internal organization and/or in case of force majeure. In the absence of the student, no refund will be made. Payment may be credited for attending another training course within a year, if the absence is justified by the production of an official document and due to medical or/and a force majeure reason.

Image rights:

Each student agrees that his image can be used for internal and external communication to promote the activity of the Alexandre de Paris' Academy. (Videos and photos taken during the training courses by our team). Upon a written request addressed to the academy, a student may request that his image is not used.
